Eisenhower Has No Comment On Failure to Launch Satellite

President Is At Gettysburg Farm for Rest

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower had no immediate comment today on the unsuccessful attempt to launch the U. S. test satellite.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpastor of the White House staff telephoned the President from Washington to tell him that the rocket exploded on its launching pad.

The President, Hagerty added, had no comment to make.

Eisenhower, recovering rapidly from the mild stroke he suffered Nov. 25, was spending a long weekend at his 496-acre farm while his doctors determine definitely whether he can attend the forthcoming NATO summit meeting in Paris.

The President was in touch this morning by telephone with Goodpastor and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

In Washington, authoritative sources said the President has decided to attend the critical Dec. 16-18 Paris session barring a last-minute veto from his medical advisers or another setback.

The doctors were expected to give their final decision about the middle of next week. But tentative plans already were being laid for Eisenhower to fly to Paris, probably a week from Saturday, the sources in Washington said.

The Chief Executive arrived at his rambling farm home here Thursday. Enroute from Washington, the presidential motorcade halted to pick up a young serviceman thumbing his way back to his base.

The President planned a slow, easy day today with nothing scheduled.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower, who arrived after a lunch engagement in Washington, probably will return to the White House Sunday or Monday.

Schedule Not Yet Normal

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Thursday that Eisenhower was not back on a full schedule despite his activities of the past few days. But he said the President's doctors reported Wednesday that "everything was fine" in his recovery from a slight stroke Nov. 25.

The lucky hitchhiker picked up Thursday was Jerry Beswick, an airman second class from Brandywine, Md., who was returning to his Syracuse, N. Y., Air Force Base after a visit home.

Khrushchev Says U. S. Refuses to Give Up Rocket

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Communist Party chieftain Nikita Khrushchev said tonight that the carrier rocket of the first Soviet Sputnik plunged to earth over American territory last Sunday but "the Americans will not give it up to us."

Khrushchev made his declaration to foreign correspondents at a Finnish embassy reception.

"We know the carrier rocket fell over the United States," Khrushchev said. "But they do not want to give it back to us."

"We relied on their decency, but they did not live up to it."

"We know it fell somewhere in the United States and will announce it publicly soon with a request that they return it to us."

A reporter asked Khrushchev whether he was serious or was joking.

"I am absolutely serious," Khrushchev replied.

Asked whether he meant over the American continent, the United States itself or the Atlantic, Khrushchev said:

"No. It was not the Atlantic but United States territory."

Dr. Kane suffered a scalp wound but refused medical attention.

AFL-CIO Boots Out Teamsters

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — The AFL-CIO convention today booted the Teamsters Union out of the merged labor movement for failure to remove officials charged with corruption.

The convention booted the 1,500,000-member union—the nation's largest—in the climax to nearly a year of clean-up attempts.

Charges against Teamsters' President-elect James R. Hoffa and retiring union chief Dave Beck formed the keystone in the AFL-CIO's case for ouster.

A nine-man appeals committee, recommending expulsion, affirmed earlier findings that Hoffa and Beck both misused union funds and that Hoffa fronted for racketeers.

The expulsion vote followed lengthy debate and arguments that the Teamsters deserved a year's time to correct the abuses cited by the AFL-CIO.

Attempt to Launch Satellite-Carrying Rocket Is a Failure

2 Drown, Third Rescued at Crab Orchard Lake

CARTERVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Two duck hunters drowned and a third man was rescued after their boat capsized in two-foot high waves on Crab Orchard lake near here this morning.

The drowning victims were Thomas Z. Snyder, 50, a Nazarene minister of Lawrenceville, who formerly worked at a Peabody mine in Saline county, and Marion W. Stone, 39, of West Salem.

Donald Williams, 21, Evansville, Ind., a son-in-law of Snyder's, was rescued.

Authorities said all three had on life preservers.

Williams was rescued by a Southern Illinois University student, Joe Whitmore, Chicago, who shed his clothes and jumped into the icy waters to pull Williams ashore.

Williams was taken to Marion Memorial hospital for treatment for exposure.

The bodies of the two victims were washed ashore by the high waves.

Crab Orchard Wildlife Refuge manager, Eugene Crawford, estimated the boat went down about 200 yards off shore, just south of Carterville.

It was the second drowning in the Snyder family in a little more than a year at Crab Orchard lake. On Nov. 26, 1956, Snyder's son, 26-year-old Gilbert Snyder of Bradley, drowned when he swam to retrieve a drifting boat.

Pilot Guides Flaming Jet Over Bay to His Death

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — "He purposely made certain that the flaming jet would not crash in Warwick, Hampton or Newport News. Had he bailed out when I first notified him he definitely was on fire, he would be alive right now."

His commanding officer made that statement today about Air Force pilot Lt. Wilbert L. Messmaker, 22, South Holland, Ill., who guided his flaming F100 Super Sabre jet over the Chesapeake Bay to his death Thursday. He apparently did it to prevent crashing into the thick metropolitan area surrounding Langley Field here.

Messmaker disobeyed repeated orders from Major Jerry Hogue, Messmaker disobeyed repeated orders from Major Jerry Hogue, Tucson, Ariz., his squadron commander, to bail out from his flaming jet. Messmaker flew the plane, with flames streaming along the fuselage and the engine exploding, until it reached water, Hogue said.

He bailed out in the bay a quarter mile offshore but apparently drowned.

The plane caught fire shortly after takeoff from Langley, and Messmaker apparently first started to try to make it back to the field. He then jettisoned fuel tanks, turned the craft toward the bay and continued flying.

A helicopter found Messmaker's body still attached to its parachute. The navy said artificial respiration failed to revive him.

Messmaker is survived by his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Messmaker, South Holland.

Walter Harner, 55, Mitchellville, Dies

Walter Harner, 55, died in the Harrisburg hospital at 2:50 p. m. Thursday. The body is in the care of the Aly funeral home at Eddyville and was taken at 3 p. m. today to lie in state in the family home at Mitchellville.

He is survived by his wife, Sarah in the home, and his son, Harley Harner, of Pontiac, Mich. The funeral will be held in the Macedonia Baptist church at a time to be announced later and burial will be in the Lindale Memorial Gardens cemetery.

Brosia Greer, 57, Dies; Funeral Sunday at 2 p. m.

Brosia Greer, 57, of 309 South Texas street, Harrisburg, a miner who last worked at Sahara 7, died in the Lightner hospital at 4:45 p. m. Thursday. He is survived by his wife, Esther, and three children, Mrs. Lucille Robins, Alton, and Roy Dale Greer and Janette Sue Greer in the family home. Five grandchildren and the following sisters also survive: Mrs. Belva Matthews, Mrs. Lela Hull and Mrs. Francis Craig, all of Harrisburg, and Mrs. Rhoda Hollar and Mrs. Georgia Cuckler, both of Pontiac, Mich.

The body will lie in state at the Gibbons funeral home until the funeral at 2 p. m. Sunday in the Gaskins City Missionary Baptist church. The Rev. Clayton Humphrey, assisted by the Rev. Roy Reynolds, will officiate and burial will be in the Powell cemetery near Norris City.

Salvation Army Tree of Lights Begins Saturday

The Salvation Army's Tree of Lights event will start at noon tomorrow when members of the Harrisburg Kiwanis club will take over the Army's kettles uptown until the stores close.

The campaign will open with remarks by Charles D. Taylor, chairman of the Salvation Army's Citizens Advisory board.

Lt. Mildred Wallace said that there will be no choral group on hand tomorrow but that Christmas records would be played.

For every $5 contributed to the Christmas kettles a bulb will be lighted on the Christmas tree on the southwest corner of the court yard. Two hundred unlighted bulbs will be placed on the tree, all eager to shine.

This method of securing funds was decided upon because the annual drive fell far short this fall. The Salvation Army's welfare program in Harrisburg and surrounding area will be curtailed if more funds are not secured.

If all the bulbs on the tree are lighted, it would mean $1,000 for the Army's work.

Other organizations will take over the kettles on Thursday and Saturday afternoons until Christmas, with regular Salvation Army workers on hand the other days. The organization which does the best job will be honored by the Army.

Death Takes Mrs. B. D. Russell

Mrs. Irene Russell, widow of the late B. D. Russell, whose home was at 15 West Homer street, Harrisburg, died in the Eldorado nursing home at 8 a. m. today. The body is in the care of the Harrisburg funeral home and funeral arrangements are in complete.

The announcer at the cape on the phone said "All personnel stand by."

Then the news was broken that the rocket had failed.

Finally they passed around a little card with these words on it: "Exploded—no injuries."

Council of Churches Offers Christian Program for Racial Tensions, Space Perils

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The National Council of Churches today offered the nation a Christian program for dealing with the international perils of the space age and the domestic problem of racial tension.

The program was spelled out in a series of resolutions adopted by 2,000 delegates to the council's triennial general assembly.

The six-day assembly concludes today. Here's what the church leaders had to say about major current issues:

Nuclear-space Missiles: Christians view the dawning era of space vehicles "with both hope and concern." Their hope stems from the sure faith that "in this new era, God is still sovereign, Lord of men and nations."

Their concern is that man may use the "awesome" powers now in his grasp for self-destruction.

"The accelerating arms race which now grips our world may lead directly to a war which will destroy civilization." The United States should work "persistently for an effective disarmament agree-

Navy Vanguard Explodes While Still on Ground

Defense Department Says No New Attempt For Several Weeks

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A satellite-carrying U. S. rocket exploded on the ground today in a fresh failure of American efforts to meet Russia's Sputnik challenge.

The Defense Department announced its personnel and scientists at the scene escaped injury.

The Defense Department also said it probably will be at least several weeks before another attempt will be made to launch a test satellite.

The Army, also in the moon-carrying effort, is getting ready its own attempt to launch a satellite but it is not ready to fire.

The Vanguard, a thing of beauty on its launching stand, toppled into the water just before it exploded — an inglorious end to a magnificent endeavor.

An orange ball of flame and billowing black smoke engulfed the gleaming silver Vanguard Navy missile at the moment it was fired — 10:45 a. m. e. s. t.

The rocket blew up on its launching stand.

The Power Failed

Dr. John P. Hagen, chief of the satellite project, said in Washington through a spokesman that the trouble developed two seconds after the Vanguard rocket was fired.

"Then the rocket fell back on the stand, toppled over toward the water—that is toward the east—and exploded," the spokesman said.

Fire followed the explosion of the Vanguard but did not last long. In non-technical language, what happened—according to the Defense Department—was that the power which hurled the rocket into space failed. Early diagnosis put the blame in the rocket's first stage.

Hagen quoted J. Paul Walsh, deputy Vanguard director at Canaveral as being "naturally very disappointed."

All Was Tense

This reporter could hear the dramatic last portion of the countdown preceding the firing—19-18-17—

They got down to one second. All was tense in the public information office at Patrick Air Force Base.

Maj. Kenneth Grine was on the phone. He got to zero. Nothing happened. Then there was a pause. It was only seconds but seemed like hours.

The announcer at the cape on the phone said "All personnel stand by."

Then the news was broken that the rocket had failed.

Finally they passed around a little card with these words on it: "Exploded—no injuries."

But by then everybody knew. It

Stevenson Says Administration Sacrifices Truth for Advantage

London Article Explains Refusal To Attend Talks

LONDON (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson told Britons today the Eisenhower administration has "sacrificed truth" and "the respect and confidence of our friends abroad" for political advantage.

Stevenson made the statement in a special article written for the London News-Chronicle in his role as titular head of the Democratic Party. The piece was an explanation of his decision not to accept President Eisenhower's invitation to attend the top level Paris NATO sessions later this month.

In Washington, a spokesman for Stevenson denied the News-Chronicle story. "This story is definitely not true," the spokesman said in a statement. "Mr. Stevenson has not written any article for the London News-Chronicle, nor has he talked to any of their reporters."

The Chronicle may have taken a speech or article by Mr. Stevenson months ago and has given the impression that it was written within the past few days.

Stevenson said he would "go before Congress" to call for an "open handed" billion dollar foreign aid program. He did not say when.

Unhappy About Mideast

He wrote that he saw unhappy developments in the Middle East and within the NATO alliance that indicated this was a perilous period for the West.

The Anglo-French attack on Suez would not have taken place last year had the United States taken a more decisive position toward Russian Middle East penetration and nationalization of the Suez Canal by Egypt, he said.

Stevenson did not specify what position he thought the United States should have taken in these connections.

Stevenson stressed the need for truth to be presented to the people of the United States by the administration and wrote:

"I think there have been many occasions in the past four years under the Eisenhower administration when we have sacrificed truth, and we have sacrificed, indeed, even the respect and confidence of our friends abroad, in the interests of party harmony of some fancy political advantage in this country (the U. S.) and I think this a great mistake."

17-Year-Old Sex Slayer Admits Other Assaults

CHICAGO (AP) — A 17-year-old sex slayer has admitted he assaulted four women and girls, the last one a fatal attack on Mary Lou Wagner, 14.

The information was revealed Thursday at an inquest into the bludgeoning slaying of the Wagner girl last Friday. A coroner's jury later voted that the confessed killer, Robert M. Fleig, be held to the grand jury for murder.

Fleig, in his confession to police, said he beat her with his fists when she resisted his advances and then raped the unconscious girl. He said he then "got scared" for fear "she would tell what I had done" and beat her over the head with a rolling pin and dumped her body in a pond in suburban Glenview.

Authorities said Fleig admitted three other assaults on women during a lie detector test, but apparently was not involved in any unsolved slayings in the Chicago area. Police did not identify the names of the other girls and women he attacked.

Fleig clung to his father, Max, a baker, during the inquest and did not look at any of his accusers. He refused to testify himself on advice of his attorney.

During a recess, Fleig's father tearfully offered his condolences to the dead girl's mother, Mrs. Mildred Wagner, and sobbed "I wish it was my boy that was dead."

"I know," Mrs. Wagner replied. "You have lost a son and I have lost a daughter. We have lost together. I have no bitterness toward you."

Unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ. Ephesians 4:13. Paul set a goal of utter perfection. Paul kept on till he could say, "It is no longer I that live but Christ that dwells in me." And "For me to live is Christ." Tens of millions of saints have aimed at the same goal. In many cases the world has recognized their likeness to Christ.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

by DREW PEARSON

LOS ANGELES.—Baseball fans in Brooklyn plus taxpayers in other parts of the USA aren't going to like it when they learn the real story of how the Brooklyn Dodgers were inveigled out to Los Angeles.

The story involves a city councilman's strongarm box and secret checking accounts containing $57,570 together with a $4,720,000 gift to Los Angeles by Uncle Sam for the land on which the Dodgers will build their ball park. In other words, the taxpayers of Brooklyn as well as the rest of the USA are helping to pay for transferring the Dodgers to Los Angeles.

But perhaps most shocking of all is the fact that 3300 ill-housed families in Los Angeles were kicked out of their homes by condemnation on the excuse of putting up a new modern public housing project. Instead their land is now being turned over to the Dodgers.

Furthermore it is being turned over under a contract by which Walter O'Malley, the Dodgers' owner, gets the parking rights, the concession rights, and even half the oil rights. Oil has already been discovered all around this area. In addition O'Malley will control and operate the parks, playgrounds and junior ball diamonds in the entire area turned over to him by the city of Los Angeles thanks to the $4,720,000 bonanza handed Los Angeles by other federal taxpayers.

In San Francisco Mayor George Christopher retained parking rights and concessions in San Francisco's contract with the New York Giants but not Mayor Norris Poulson of LA.

SHACKS AND SWIMMING POOLS
The story of this amazing baseball deal goes back half a dozen years when public housing officials in the sprawled-out city of Los Angeles were trying to clean up the Negro shacks and Mexican tenements that contrast with the flower-bedecked swimming pools of motion picture stars. Under the Taft housing act Mayor Fletcher Bowron and the city council signed a contract with the federal government to build a housing project and make L. A. look more like the city of the angels.

In unkept, crowded Chavez ravine, land was condemned, families ousted. Suddenly City Councilman Ed Davenport switched his vote. This, together with another wavering councilman, turned a bare majority of the city council over to the side of the real estate interests which had been trying desperately to stop public housing.

Later City Councilman Davenport died. In his safe deposit box was found $30,000 in crisp, clean cash. In three checking accounts was found $27,570. The total, $57,570, was more than the $7500 annual salary he had drawn from the city council in his eight years in office. Davenport had lived at the swank Park Wilshire apartment house into which he moved shortly after taking office, yet after drawing a salary of $57,000 he had $57,570 left.

Later his wife made a formal statement all but admitting the money had come from the real estate lobby. The $57,570, she informed Internal Revenue, was "gifts of money" to her husband. Since you can't give gifts of money legally to a city official, these were bribes.

Los Angeles Internal Revenue agents started a thorough investigation with a view to finding out who paid the bribes. They were called off by higher-ups in the Eisenhower administration.

Meanwhile friends of the realtors plus a referendum had reversed Mayor Bowron on public housing. Bowron, himself, a liberal Republican, was defeated by Congressman Norris Poulson, a conservative Republican who had voted in Congress with the real estate lobby.

The Chavez ravine housing project was dead. Several thousand people had been moved out, their shacks and tenements torn down. However, the city of Los Angeles owed federal taxpayers about $6,000,000 and to get Mayor Poulson off the hook for this amount, Vice President Nixon and Senator William Knowland, both potent on Capitol Hill, discreetly helped put a rider in the 1954 housing bill permitting Los Angeles to unload the abortive Chavez ravine housing project on Uncle Sam for the knockdown price of $1,279,000. This was $4,720,000 less than the government had advanced Los Angeles.

In other words, all the taxpayers paid Los Angeles for the cost of throwing Negroes and Mexicans out of their homes, tearing down their tenements and buying the land which now stands empty. Total cost was $4,720,000.

The rider was sneaked through the Senate when pro-public housing senators were away attending the funeral of a great pro-housing Republican, Senator Charles Tobey of New Hampshire. Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts helped Knowland and Nixon put it across.

Thanks to this bonanza, given to no other city in the USA, Mayor Poulson was able to offer this empty tract of land to the Brooklyn Dodgers at no cost to him. The other taxpayers had already paid for it.

However, the families who were dispossessed of their homes are not happy. Nor are about a thousand other families who must be forced to move if the Dodgers get all the 330 acres promised them. Getting them to move will be more difficult, because under California law you can't condemn a man's home to build a ball park. Mayor Poulson also faces a referendum next spring before the Dodgers finally acquire the choice, free land once cleared to make Los Angeles look more like the city of the angels.

A Masterpiece...Even by Cadillac Standards!

The magnificent Cadillac car for 1958 is, without question, a rare masterpiece in all the things that make a Cadillac... a Cadillac!

Certainly, it has had no precedent insofar as beauty is concerned. In its graceful symmetry of line and in its remarkable look of stature and substance, it is in a class all of its own.

Unquestionably, it is without counterpart by the way of interior elegance. Never before have Fleetwood coachcrafters combined such graciousness and luxury and spaciousness in a single interior design.

TOPEKA, Kan. (UP) — Mrs. Leo Schreiner refuses to pay city garbage collection fees because she gets rid of her waste by feeding it to chickens. When told a city ordinance prohibit chickens, she had a ready answer. Her backyard chicken pen is in another township, she said.

Twelve Children At Father's Bedside On Thanksgiving

Mrs. John L. Owen, 807 North Webster street, Harrisburg, was one of the twelve children who, on Thanksgiving, were at the bedside of their father, Marion Rogers, critically ill following a stroke, in the St. Joseph of Mercy hospital in Pontiac, Mich.

Mrs. Owen has just returned from Pontiac where she remained nine days after having been called to her father's side. Mrs. Owen said that it was the first time that all of the children had ever been together, since some were married and out of the home before the birth of the younger ones. Mr. Rogers was too ill to recognize them or realize the significance of their visit.

CARRIER MILLS COMMUNITY HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS participated in the hearing test program, conducted by the Egyptian Health Department, Tuesday. In top photo the tests are being conducted on a group basis and at left a student poses with equipment used in the follow up individual tests. Egyptian Health Dep't Conducts Hearing Tests in County Schools

The Egyptian Health Department, in cooperation with the school officials and teachers, is conducting hearing screening tests in the schools of Saline county.

This is an attempt to determine the hearing of all pupils in the Saline county schools. The approach to the testing is on a group basis. Approximately forty students are tested at one time with Maico Audiometric equipment being used. Each student puts on an individual head phone. From a master machine the public health nurse tests forty students at one time.

Any child whose performance on the group test appears to indicate a hearing loss is referred to a second nurse for an individual test. If this second test reveals a hearing loss the student is told that his or her hearing will be examined again in two or three weeks. If this test still reveals a hearing loss the public health nurse visits the home of the student's parents and informs them of their child's hearing findings and suggests that the child be seen by their local physician, or subject to their doctor's approval, an otologist for further hearing examinations.

Prior to the public health nurse's testing program, all schools have been visited by the health educator who explains that many individuals may fail the first group and individual testing but may not have a permanent hearing loss. Some times students' responses are due to poor attention, noise, and confusion in the building. Sometimes it may be due to their inability to understand fully the instructions. It is also possible that some children may fail the test because of a temporary condition, such as a cold, sore throat, dental abscesses, pyorrhea, and impacted teeth. However, after two or three weeks the nurse will return to the school and again test the hearing of all students who failed the first test.

If the student should fail this second test, the student, if of high school age, or the parents, if the student is in grade school, are strongly advised to seek competent medical attention. In many instances prompt medical attention can eliminate or at least retard the condition. Parents are prone to overlook a hearing loss of their child inasmuch as they cannot see that it is affecting the child. They do not realize the possible progressive nature of such impairment.

Hearing losses do not just "happen." They are results of some disease or infection such as children's diseases, frequent colds, enlarged tonsils, adenoids, etc. A discharging ear or earaches are serious and need immediate attention. A hearing loss may cause the child to appear to be disobedient when actually he has not heard you. It may cause him to do poor work in school.

Parents are urged not to neglect the hearing loss of their children. The Egyptian Health Department staff conducting the programs now in progress in Saline county are Mrs. Ruby Turner, Mrs. Annary Empson, Saline county staff nurses, Mrs. Lucille Chalpany Gallatin county staff nurse, Mrs. Mabel Grumley Burton, nursing supervisor, and Guy J. Hunter, health educator. Mrs. C. O. Flanders from Eldorado is the volunteer assisting the staff.

The county wide programs have been or will be done on the following dates: December 2, Carrier Mills elementary; December 3, Carrier Mills high school and Beulah Heights; December 5, Galatia high school and Galatia elementary; December 9, Dorrisville and Raleigh schools; December 10, Washington school in Eldorado; December 11, Jefferson and Lincoln schools in Eldorado.

LOOK AT IT BOTH WAYS. Dogs are smart, and loyal. Dogs often frighten off burglars, rouse householders when prowlers appear; have even held burglars at bay until they could be captured. On the other hand, some burglars are pretty smart, too. Burglars have locked dogs in garages, confused them with friendly greetings, drugged them. It's thrusting a lot of responsibility on even the best dog to make him guardian of one's most valued possessions; especially when it's so easy to give valuables the protection a safe deposit box affords.

Foreign Mission Season Of Prayer Observed

A very enjoyable evening was spent Monday, Dec. 2, by members of the Woman's Missionary society and the Business Women's circle of the First Baptist church of Carrier Mills, as they met together to observe the Season of Prayer for Foreign Missions.

The program was presented by the Business Woman's circle, following the theme, "For God So Loved." Mrs. George Whitney presided as program director.

The group was called to order by the president, Mrs. George Henson, who presented Mrs. Whitney as director.

The Bible reading, taken from John 3-16, was given in unison by all present, after which Mrs. Mabel Cates led in prayer.

A solo, "The Love of God," was rendered by Jarrell Chaney, accompanied at the piano by Miss Marigene Miller.

Discussions on the qualifications required of foreign missionaries, and some of the problems they face on the field, were very ably given, and an appeal was made on the need for more workers and financial support to be given through the Lottie Moon Christmas offering. Sentence prayers were then offered by all present.

The Christmas offering was taken by each member placing her offering envelope on the lighted Christmas tree. The tree table was beautifully decorated with a Christmas centerpiece of candelabra and greenery on white cloth.

The following were served cake, on which were silver moons and the words "Lottie Moon," ice cream and coffee. Mesdames George Henson, Randall Cushman, W. L. Mottinger, Jane Puckett, Jack Coats, Willie Hancock, Parish Miller, Mabel Cates, Harvey Chaney, Walter Sadtler, George Whitney, Hugh Miller, Charles Tanner, Cressie Holmes, Bertha Durfee, Chester Starkey, Harry Meier, Harry Fife, Freeman Pankey, Harry Rann, Truman Keel and Harry Rann, Miss Marigene Miller, Mr. Jarrell Chaney.

Plans were made to make a cash donation to the Carmi Children's Home Christmas fund.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Dec. 17, at the home of Norma Green.

U. S. Holding Back On Big Jump Into Space

Missile Chief Says Stockpile of IRBMs, ICBMs Comes First

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is holding back on any big "jump into space" until it has produced an adequate arsenal of long-range ballistic missiles.

Deputy Assistant Defense Secretary William M. Holaday said flatly this country has the "hard ware"—presumably ballistic missiles—to launch large earth satellites any time it wanted.

But the missiles director emphasized this would have to take a back seat to the stockpiling of long-range missiles.

Holaday told a meeting of the American Rocket Society in New York Thursday night that right now "satellites are not as military useful as a working dependable ballistic missile weapon system would be."

"When we are assured of an adequate intermediate range ballistic missile capability and an intercontinental ballistic missile system with the necessary support equipment and stockpile of missiles, then we intend to jump into space."

"To do so beforehand would be like trying to lock the front door and to let the back door stay open," he said.

The United States is attempting again today to fire a six-inch test satellite into a globe-circling orbit. The Soviet Union—presumably with the aid of ballistic missile power—has sent up a 1,120-pound Sputnik.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) accused the Defense Department of handing the Russians another propaganda victory by its "stupidity" in announcing the hour by hour failure Wednesday to launch the first American "moon."

In other missile-satellite developments:—George S. Trimble, vice president of the Martin Co. which built the satellite—launching Vanguard rocket, predicted the first attempt to orbit a U. S. satellite would fail.

—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said the Truman administration produced all of the 11 operational missiles now in this country's arsenal. He said the "failures" in the U. S. missile program rest with President Eisenhower.

—Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover urged speedy construction of a fleet of "underwater satellites"—atom-powered submarines capable of launching ballistic missiles while surfaced or submerged. He said the Russians have a sub fleet five times as large as this country.

Attempt to Launch Satellite Rocket Fails

was written on the face of the man on the phone.

Flame and Smoke
Defense officials began explaining the failure in Washington. "The percentages in this business go against you," a spokesman said. "We've had three beautiful shots in earlier tests."

The previous tests were on the separate stages of the three-stage Vanguard during the past year.

When the firing button was pressed, observers on the beach saw a huge billow of orange flame which enveloped the red-and-white tower that had been pulled away from the missile.

Black smoke shot skyward, and then drifted inland with the brisk wind. Flames were seen for a few seconds, mingled with the smoke which cloaked the missile.

A growing ball of orange flame appeared at first to be a normal explosion blast from the rocket engines that precedes any firing.

However, the orange flame continued to expand this time, and beach observers from four miles away knew at that moment that something had gone wrong.

May Fire Thor
When a billowing cloud of black smoke formed at the top of the flaming area it was clear to experienced missile watchers that the Vanguard had exploded.

There were unofficial reports immediately after the Vanguard failure that an Air Force Thor was ready to be fired some time later today. The Thor is an intermediate range ballistic missile similar to the Army's Jupiter.

The Thor has been fired successfully several times.

Clear Debris from Blast Fatal to 12

VILLA RICA, Ga. (AP)—Civil defense crews moved into the devastated heart of this small textile town today to clear debris and hunt possible other victims of a gas explosion that killed at least 12 persons.

Organized teams replaced the frenzied and at times haphazard search Thursday in the smoldering wake of the blast that leveled five buildings.

John Bailey, a city councilman who worked nightlong with civil defense officials and other authorities in counting the toll said 12 bodies had been found and identified, and 14 persons were hospitalized.

The blast, followed by fire, came in mid-morning Thursday, when the town's business section was crowded with shoppers. Investigators said it apparently was caused by a leaking gas line in a drug store on the main street.

One of the last bodies recovered Thursday was that of Bobby Roberts, 12, found in a dentist chair which had been buried in the rubble.

Marine Freed By Court Martial

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP)—A special Navy-Marine court martial today acquitted a Marine from Arkansas of charges of mistreating prisoners in the brig at the Sasebo Naval Base, southern Japan.

The court found Marine Pfc. Don B. Etansell innocent of a charge of striking three Navy prisoners in the brig.

The next session in the trial of 16 Marine guards charged with prison brutality was set for Tuesday, Dec. 10.

Navy authorities did not indicate who would be the defendant.

and also "in some management practices," calls for federal legislation "to correct the specific abuses revealed." This legislation "should be drawn in a spirit of fairness" with care taken not to impair "a strong democratic labor movement." The assembly warned management against "self-righteousness" about union corruption, and commented that "violations of ethical standards are widespread in daily economic activities."

This "richly endowed" nation has a heavy moral obligation to help other countries raise their living standards, through "long-term" economic and technical aid, and also by lowering tariff barriers to stimulate a major expansion of world trade.

The United States should also contribute more generously, thru the United Nations, to the aid of refugees stranded in Europe, the Near East and Far East. Local churches should turn the heat on Congress to liberalize immigration laws, grant permanent residence rights to the Hungarian refugees who are still on "parole" status in this country, and to authorize a flexible system of admitting future refugees from communism on emergency quotas.

Just Routine!

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The state highway Patrol's Sylvan post here delivered a child for Mrs. Bernard Nasbaum Thursday when she and her husband saw they wouldn't make it to a hospital and drove into the patrol parking lot. The patrol dispatcher and two patrolmen are becoming experienced midwives. It was their second delivery in a week.

Student Nurses Beaten by Teen-Age Girl Gangs

CHICAGO (AP)—Teenage girl gangs attacked two student nurses and three girls on Chicago's Northwest Side and then waged a battle on a school grounds before dispersing.

The student nurses Heather McQuery, 19, and Mary Alice Murphy, 19, Oak Park, said six girls beat them as they were en route to St. Elizabeth Hospital late Thursday.

Later, three girls attacked Patricia Floramonte, 14, Donna Curlyo, 15, and Sandra Gillespie, 14. Police said the three jumped from a car driven by a boy.

All five victims suffered cuts and bruises.

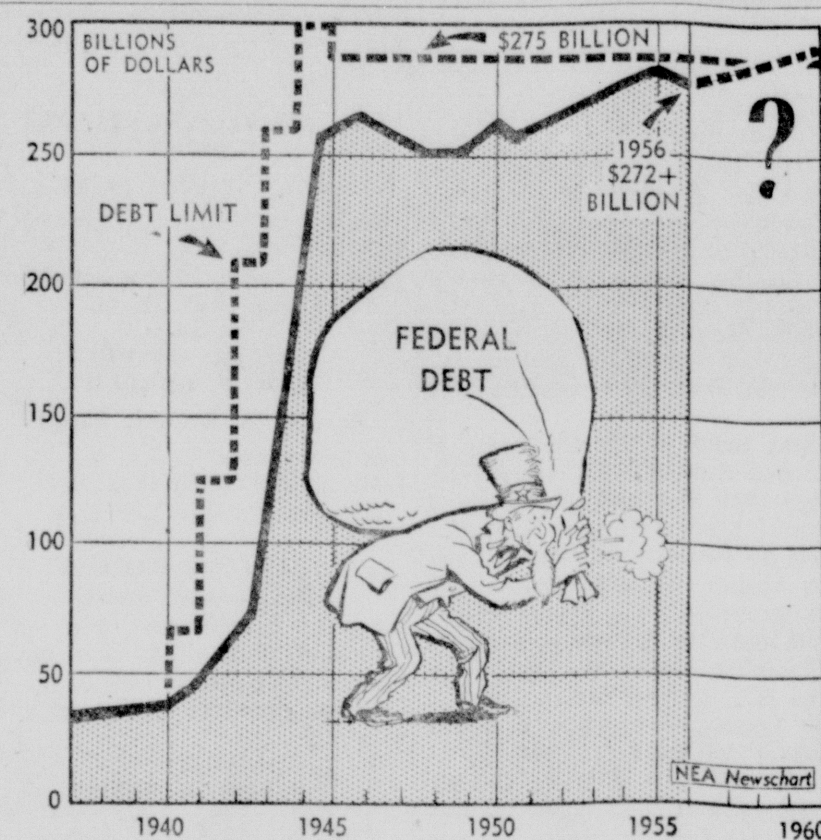

Police said about one-half hour later they received a report that two carloads of girls were fighting at a school grounds, but the girls fled before authorities arrived.

Reds Charge Allies Forfeit Berlin Rights

BERLIN (AP)—The East German Communist government charged today that the western allies have forfeited their right to be in Berlin. In the official 1957 yearbook of the German Democratic Republic, the Reds said the United States, Britain and France have violated Berlin's four-power status by converting West Berlin into a spy center for counter-revolution against the Soviet Zone. By doing this, they have deprived themselves of the right to stay in the divided city, the Reds said.

Benson Praises Wage Proposal

2 Dead, 7 Hurt In Auto Crash

WINCHESTER, Ill. (AP)—Two persons were killed and seven were injured Thursday in a two-car collision on U. S. 36 four miles west of here.

One of the victims was Wilbur Nightengale, 29, Halstead, Kan., driver of one of the cars. Four members of his family and two other passengers in his car were injured.

State police tentatively identified the other fatality as Peter J. Rowell, about 30, St. Clair Shores, Mich. Naturalization papers for Rowell, a native of England, were found on the body.

Frank Winters, 17, Manistee, Mich., who apparently had obtained a ride with Rowell, was injured. The other injured were Nightengale's wife, Helen, 29, their son, Mike, 5, and Nightengale's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Nightengale.

Also injured in the Nightengale car were Mr. and Mrs. George Caldwell, Tescott, Kan. All the injured were taken to Jacksonville hospitals.

Sahara Oil to Flow

PARIS (AP)—Petroleum from the potentially vast oil fields of the Sahara Desert may start flowing into France early next year, officials said today. French prospectors in the Sahara hope within the next week to start pumping oil from the Hassi Messaoudi field 450 miles southeast of Algiers to Touggourt. From there it will be shipped by rail and tanker to refineries at Marseilles.

freeze proposal of Richard J. Gray, president of the building trades department of the AFL-CIO. Although Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell said the idea deserves "serious consideration," Gray has come under attack from other union leaders.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, came out against the recommendation and said labor should ask for further wage hikes.

Benson said the proposal is "sound economic policy in this period of inflation," and mentioned that farm machinery prices went up again recently.

A considerable part of increased industrial profits and higher wages have been siphoned from the economic bloodstream of the nation at the expense of agriculture for several years, he said.

Vitale's sentence was cut to 54 years; Aiello to a minimum of 10 years; Benner to 70 years; Brady to 14 years; Bernovich to 99 years; Hargrove to 34 years and Bodden from 199 years to life.

Vote to Move Springer Trials

MARION, Ill. (U.P.)—The National English Springer Spaniel Field Trial Assn. has voted to move its 1958 championship stake to the 7,000-acre Busch Wildlife Preserve near St. Louis.

The association voted on the new location Thursday at its annual meeting here. The 1958 trials will be held Nov. 21, 22 and 23.

The association's 11th annual trial began today at the Crab Orchard National Wildlife Refuge near Marion where all of the previous trials have been held.

Association officials said the increasing development of the government-owned Crab Orchard Wildlife Refuge has decreased the amount of cover necessary for the dog trials.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

Edwardsville basketball fans will have more than a passing interest in the University of Illinois basketball season.

Apparently, three of the starting five will be from Edwardsville, probably the best representation one city has had in the university's cage history.

Don Ohl, senior and an all-American candidate last season, heads the Edwardsville group that includes the fabulous duo of Manie Jackson and Governor Vaughn. In the first game of the season the Edwardsville trio scored more than half of the Illini's 100 points.

Leonard Willis, only letterman on the Eldorado high school basketball team, is ineligible and will miss at least this weekend's games Coach Al Adams has stated.

Larry Miller, a junior, and sophomore Mike Mangrum, are battling for the guard spot made vacant by Willis' scholastic difficulties.

Eldorado plays at Johnston City Friday and entertains McLeansboro Saturday, then will be idle for ten days and it is possible Willis will be eligible by Dec. 17, when Galatia visits Eldorado.

In the 1955 Illinois state basketball tournament at the U. of Illinois Shawneetown met Rich Twp. in a first round game with Shawn eetown the winner.

In that game Garrison Newsome of Shawneetown was just a little less than sensational, outplaying the highly publicized Roger Taylor of Rich. On the basis of that fine performance Newsome was named to the tournament all-star first team.

Now both boys are university juniors—Taylor at the University of Illinois and Newsome at SIU. This bit of reminiscence is the result of reading basketball publicity releases from two schools.

Taylor, a letterman at the U of I as a sophomore, is regarded as a sure starter this season.

Newsome, who outplayed Taylor in high school less than four years ago, is playing Jayvee ball at SIU and is listed as a "promising" non letter candidate for the varsity.

The "Downtown Quarterbacks" at Eldorado intend the fine 1957 ETHS football team to be remembered for a long, long time.

The group has purchased a beautiful trophy, now on display at Hobbs Jewelry store in Eldorado, to be presented to the school at the annual football banquet.

The trophy, more than three feet high, has the season's record, squad members, coaches and manager engraved on it.

More than two dozen universities and colleges have written Roger Suttner, 6-10 1/2 junior Ridgway high school basketball player regarding his college intentions.

And most of the letters have requested a copy of the Ridgway cage schedule, so that a representative of the university or college can come down and watch the big boy in action, Ridgway Coach Bob Dallas stated Thursday.

The letters have come from all

Christmas Theme At Meeting of Cub Scout Pack 23

Cub Scout Pack 23, sponsored by the First Presbyterian church, had its regular monthly pack meeting Monday, Dec. 2, in the lower rooms of the church. The Christmas theme was evident by the use of Yule log candle holders, made by some of the Cub Scouts, a pretty Christmas tree, and numerous other decorations.

Den 5 advanced the colors and gave some readings of the prophecy of the birth of Jesus Christ and the Christmas Story. Den 4 told of Christmas in Norway and Den 1 gave some of the customs of Christmas in Holland. To complete the Christmas Around-The-World theme, Den 2 told of Christmas in Sweden.

Jerry Klaviva, newly elected Cubmaster, introduced the Pack committee to the group. They are: Eugene Morris, Eldon Vineyard, Ronnie Doerge, Richard Peam, Robert Favreau, and Rev. William Burr ughs.

Advancement awards were presented. Wolf badges were given to Ray Wilson, George Geltsky, David Hauptmann, William Chambers, Bobby Clark, Jamie Humphrey, and Robert Chambers. John Klaviva received his Lior badge. Gold Arrows were presented to Stephen Horton, Jimmy Davis, Johnny Vineyard and Walden Morris.

Four of the Cub Dads presented some quartet singing, which brought a smile to the Cub Scouts. Refreshments were served.

On Thursday night, Dec. 5, an organizational meeting was held to establish new dens. Four new dens were set up, consisting of a total of twenty-six boys, who were represented by their parents at this meeting.

Minnesota Wins Close 67-66 Tilt From Iowa State

By United Press

Basketball players from Minnesota wore red faces and those from North Carolina State wore red body bruises today but each team had a victory to soothe its ills.

Minnesota nosed out Iowa State, 67-66, Thursday night at Minneapolis although Iowa State's Lyle Frahm and John Crawford continually stole the ball from the bewildered Gophers. North Carolina State whipped Wake Forest, 62-51, at Winston Salem, N. C., in a game marked by hot tempers and brutal backboard bumping in the second half.

A full-court press helped Iowa State tie Minnesota in the second half before sophomore guard Maric Miller went to work. Miller scored 13 points in the half and for the night to keep it safe for Minnesota. Frahm scored 21 for Iowa State.

Hard Fought Game

North Carolina State's tight zone, 49 per cent shooting average and backboard control provided its victory in the first game of the Atlantic Coast Conference season, although Wake Forest fought mightily for rebounds. There were several spills under the boards, and Dave Budd of Wake Forest was almost kayoed when he hit the floor head first. Bob MacGillivray led the North Carolina State scorers with 20 points.

Mississippi State broke its own scoring record by doubling the opposition's score in a 114-57 victory over Howard College of Alabama. Six-foot-seven Bailey Howell, who led the nation in field goal accuracy as a sophomore last year, scored 28 points.

Other Major Games

St. John's breezed by Roanoke, 86-62. Richmond won a 72-62 Southern Conference game from Virginia Tech. Tulsa took the lead for good with 3:45 to go to beat New Mexico A&M, 62-56. Houston made the most of its superior height to overrun Texas A1, 76-50.

In other leading games, Georgia Tech beat Alabama, 73-62; Nebraska won from Wyoming, 77-66; and Princeton struggled to a 75-72 triumph over Lafayette.

Lentils are the food of the poor in all countries where they are grown.

over and both from large and small schools.

The Ridgway high school will crown its 1957-58 Basketball Queen Friday, Dec. 13. Equality will be the visiting school for a GEC cage game. And the following Monday Equality will have its own coronation, with Thompsonville the visiting school. The Queen Coronation at Equality Monday, Dec. 16, will be the first of three big basketball dates at Equality as the annual holiday invitation tourney begins at Equality Dec. 17. It is a blind-draw, two-day affair.

Logart Favored Over Gaspar Ortega In Bout Tonight

CLEVELAND, Ohio (U.P.)—Cuban welterweight Isaac Logart was an early 8 and 7 to 5 favorite today to maintain his No. 1 contender's seat against Gaspar Ortega of Mexico in a scheduled 12-round nationally televised bout here tonight.

Ortega, currently rated fourth among the 147-pound claimants, planned no change in strategy which won split-decisions over Logart in two of their previous three engagements.

He has 17 KO's in his record of 42 wins, nine losses and one draw.

Logart has 51 wins — with only seven losses and five draws.

Tonight's bout is the first in a series of elimination matches to determine who will win the vacant crown abandoned by Carmen Basilio.

Other title contenders include Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., Virgil Atkins of St. Louis, Gil Turner of Philadelphia and George Barnes of Australia.

Warriors Whip Hawks, 124-109

By United Press

Broken jaw and all, Neil Johnston is lifting the Philadelphia Warriors out of the losing side of the ledger in the National Basketball Association.

Johnston and Ernie Beck sparked a second half rally Thursday night as the Warriors whipped the St. Louis Hawks, 124-109, in the nightcap of a Philadelphia double-header. The Cincinnati Royals beat the Detroit Pistons, 109-99, in the opener in the only other game of the evening.

The victory sent the Warriors into a second-place tie with the Syracuse Nats in the Eastern Division and evened the Philadelphia season record at 9-9.

Tonight, St. Louis plays at Boston, Detroit at Syracuse and New York at Cincinnati.

Fred Haney Happy as Braves Get Bob Rush in 5-Player Deal with Cubs

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (U.P.)—Exuberant Fred Haney foresees another world championship for Milwaukee next year, and no one can argue much today in the face of a pitching staff that now includes Lew Burdette, Warren Spahn and big Bob Rush, too.

"Happy? That ain't the word," grinned the little Milwaukee manager after acquiring Rush from the Cubs Thursday night in a five-player deal.

Along with the right-handed Rush, the Braves obtained another right-handed pitcher, Don Kaiser, plus outfielder Ed Haas.

To get those three, the Braves gave up southpaw Taylor Phillips and catcher Sam Taylor.

Some baseball men seemed to feel the Cubs were short-changed but General Manager John Holland, who swung the Chicago end of the deal, didn't think so.

Minors End Talks

Meanwhile the epoch-making minor league convention ended here today after one of the stormiest weeks in the history of baseball—and the prospects of more turbulence to come.

The embattled owners sparring with a slump that has seen the nation's minor league structure fade from a high of 56 leagues in the early post-war years to 27 for 1958, have threatened to go to court to keep the majors from televising a "game of the week" on Sundays.

These are the items that promise trouble ahead.

Some 92,000 vehicles cross the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge every day. The span carries six lanes of automobile traffic on its upper deck, with three lanes of trucks and buses, and two train tracks below.

SIU Exhibits Collection Of Paintings, Sculpture

CARBONDALE, Ill. — "Art Schools U.S.A., 1957," a collection of paintings and sculpture by leading college art school graduates between 1949-1955, has been placed on exhibit at Southern Illinois University's Allyn Gallery. The exhibition will continue through Dec. 22.

Now circulating to museums and art institutions throughout the nation, the show was assembled by the Addison Gallery of American Art for the American Federation of Arts. It includes some 45 works by artists at 15 institutions throughout the U. S. The works selected represent both school experience and later performance by the artists.

Work in the exhibit—oil paintings, watercolors, collages, graphics and sculpture show a wide range of geographic and professional influence.

The Gallery is open to the public throughout each day.

CHEVROLET SETS A NEW STYLE IN STATION WAGONS!

Two new Yeoman wagons—2-door 6-passenger and 4-door 6-passenger. Smart, durable all-vinyl interiors.

Wonderful's the word for these new wagons! They're boldly beautiful with new length and lowness, new sculptured grace. They're boldly engineered with new ideas that make loading easier, riding smoother, driving happier. And they're almost too new to be true.

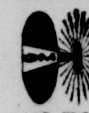

Meet the year's smartest station wagon set! Chevrolet brings you five new wagons for '58—all long, low and loaded with news.

They're more than nine inches longer, dramatically lower. The liftgate is hinged into the roof and raises completely out of the way for easier loading. Safety plate glass in all windows gives you crystal-clear visibility. There's a new easy-opening tailgate, too, and room for longer cargo.

No station wagon built ever carried loads with more ease or passengers with more comfort! Chevrolet's new standard Full Coil suspension cradles you on deep coil springs at every wheel. And you can have a real air ride as an extra-cost option.

You can choose from two- or four-door, six- or nine-passenger models with livelier V8 or 6 engines. Stop by your Chevrolet dealer's and look them over.
